REDUCED OUTPUT OF MOTOR CARS.

NO CAUSE FOR CONCERN.

[United Press.]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29. Official August production figures revealed to-day that there was a marked slump in the manufacture of automobiles, placing August production at 439,629 cars in the United States factories, a decline of 764 from July.

With the exception of the year 1923, every year since 1921 has showed, in its August records, an increased production.

Mr. Thomas Lamont conducted a study and analysis of the figures before they were released to-day and he attributed the slump to the fact that manufacturers were getting their new models to the market earlier than heretofore.

Purchasers were apparently waiting for these models, which slowed production requirements for the old models.

Mr. Lamont believed that there were no causes for concern.

CHEFOO MERCHANTS UP IN ARMS.

TRADE THREATENED WITH RUINATION.

A number of special tax offices in Chefoo have been abolished and their places taken by a general goods tax office, which commenced operations on the 16th inst., states the Chefoo Daily News. A set of regulations has just been issued, and the merchants are much perturbed about some of the items, which they think will be very detrimental to trade. For instance a large consignment of goods arrives by sea. The merchant takes the Maritime Customs' tax receipt to the new goods tax office, and there, after all dues are paid, he receives the transit passes, which will allow of the goods being sent inland. But it appears that, when the goods forwarded pass out of this district into another, the Customs barriers on the road will examine the goods, confiscate the pass, and issue another. After the tax there has been paid, and this course will be followed in every new district through which the goods pass. The local merchants' protest that this burden will ruin trade.

On September 16, representatives of the various trade organizations in the town held a meeting at the Chamber of Commerce, and decided that all merchants, traders, and shopkeepers should together proceed to the tax office and respectfully present a petition that these Customs barriers be abolished, and that goods shall not have to pay transit duty in each district through which they pass. They also decided that no goods should be forwarded to other places. This may involve them in great loss, but they swear that they will continue until their object is attained.

A Protest.

In connection with the above, the following letter was published in the Chefoo paper:

"The Editor, Chefoo Daily News, 'Sir,—For all those who have manifested sympathy with the hopes and aims of the Nationalistic Government, the recently promulgated tariff of the Shantung local goods consolidation levy, which is being imposed in place of the local goods tax, and made retrospective as from Monday last, will be of particular interest.

"Seemingly, all the commodities vitally affected by the charges of the new tariff and its required inland transit passes. The import duties on the materials for such industries as embroideries and laces, together with the charges for transit passes covering the transport of the materials to, and the finished goods from, the places of production, also the export duty, will make the cost so high that competition on the foreign markets will be impossible, and, as there is no demand for those goods on the China market, these industries will be doomed.

"It is a great deal to hope that of Chefoo trade and industry are at this period, when there is apparently such a lack of wise counsel and mature judgment, any protest will meet with much success in influencing the authorities responsible for the imposition of this tariff, but, at the same time when large sums of money are being raised in foreign countries for the relief of distress in this land, it may be well to enlighten the donors to those funds of this tariff, as instancing how diametrically opposed to the best interests of the people the official policy can be, and to point out how that, if persisted in, it will result in the deprivation of tens of thousands of women and girls of their means of livelihood, and this is a province already so impoverished by the ravages of war and pestilence."

READERS are reminded that inquiries relating to the share market are answered on page 10 every Tuesday by "Kufan." Letters should be sent to this office, and must be accompanied by writer's name and address, not for publication. Letters should be addressed to "Kufan," care of the Editor.

PROPERTY RIGHTS AT HANKOW.

RIVERSIDE ROAD QUESTION.

Whilst no details have yet been made public (says the Hankow correspondent of the N. C. Daily News) it is understood that the questions at issue between the City Municipality and Messrs. Butterfield and Swire are being discussed in a friendly way and a settlement is in sight. The vernacular press publishes what it describes as full accounts of the conversations and correspondence between the Mayor and H.B.M. Consul-General and a perusal of these articles is interesting.

In the account of the interview on the afternoon of September 13, it is stated that the Mayor began the conversation by giving the history of the scheme for this Riverside Road. The Consul-General replied that he did not wish to raise any objection to the scheme, or to hinder its completion, but he asked that the question might be dealt with in a less hurried way. The Mayor replied that the first discussion took place on August 10, at a meeting at which Mr. Wei, of Butterfield's was present, so that a month had elapsed between that meeting and the first entry of the Municipal workmen on the premises of the company.

An Alternative.

The question was raised by the Consul-General whether the scheme could be modified by carrying the road outside the existing sheds and godowns of the two shipping companies. The Mayor said that this was not feasible, as such an extension of the frontage out into the river would cause difficulties by diverting the flow of the water and would mean heavy expense. The Consul-General then suggested that Messrs. Butterfield & Swire might be allowed to erect sheds on land to be bounded by them between the Riverside Road and the river, retaining their berthing rights and freely moving their cargoes to the godowns. To this the Mayor gave his hearty consent, subject to discussion of the details.

In a letter of the same date, the Consul-General repeated the gist of the conversation as given above and expressed the opinion that the Minister in Peking would agree to this settlement, since it met the wishes of the municipality about the Riverside Road and the wishes of the company for transit sheds on the river front. The reply of the Mayor was quite non-committal. He acknowledged the communication and the readiness of the British firm to meet his wishes and said he regarded the suggestion as a good one, since the authorities wish to respect both the trading and property rights of the foreign community, but he pointed out that the two shipping companies must be treated on an equality and whatever rights are given to Messrs. Butterfield & Swire may have to be given to the China Merchants S.N. Co. He trusts that an amicable settlement of the question may be possible.

BUTTERED HER CAT'S FEET.

MAGISTRATE'S DISMISS A SUMMONS.

The curious practice of buttering a cat's feet to keep it at home was mentioned at Kingston Police Court when Mr. Frederick Ernest Finch, of Molesey-road, Hersham, was summoned in respect of his cat, which it was stated was found in a starving condition by an R.S.P.C.A. inspector.

Mr. Finch said that some time ago he moved to another house, taking the cat with the family, but it continually went back to its old home.

Mrs. Finch said that she tried to keep the cat in the new house by buttering its feet, but it would not stay there.

Colonel Hepworth, the chairman, said that it was a difficult thing to keep a cat under control, and the summons would be dismissed on payment of costs.

CHINESE STUDENTS IN AMERICA.

LARGER NUMBERS FOR ENGINEERING.

[United Press.]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29.

With most United States universities opening during the present week, educational authorities to-day estimated that there were on hand approximately 2,000 Chinese students.

One-fifth of these are supported by the government including a new contingent of 50 from Tsinghua. The largest representation is at East Columbia, which has 70 Chinese, of whom only a dozen are undergraduates. Authorities say that they are depending increasingly upon Chinese institutions to handle the undergraduate work, sending the students on to America for the postgraduate work which can better be had here.

It is also noticeable that there is an increase in the number of students taking engineering courses. This is attributed to China's industrial programme.

Indicative of the aptitude of Chinese in the engineering profession is the fact that W. Y. Wo of Columbia, for many years engaged by the Edison interests, is at present in Washington observing radio establishments preparatory to a return to China to enter the service of the National Government.

There is also the case of N.Y. Shen, a successful radio engineer, who is soon returning to China.

Other noted Chinese engineers now engaged by American companies include G. R. Loy, at Curtis Field, N. Y., and C. C. Kwong, who is engaged in mechanical construction work.

THE DEADLOCK WITH RUSSIA.

MOSCOW DENOUNCES PROPAGANDA BY NANKING.

[United Press.]

Moscow, Sept. 10.

The Press reports that there have been negotiations in Berlin and in Tokyo, between representatives of China and of the U.S.S.R., were denied here to-day.

Particular exception is taken to one story to the effect that the two principals had reached a definite agreement, but that Russia, hoping for a turn in the internal political or military situation in China, manifested stiffness at the last moment and declined to go through with the pact. This tale is denounced as completely false.

It is declared that Nanking has resorted to propaganda of this sort, in order to persuade the Mukden authorities to keep a firm attitude and to assist in the sale of the disbandment loan bonds.

Teacher (after giving lesson on Egypt and the Nile): "You tell me, Freddy, how it is possible to get anything to grow on these sun-scorched plains."
Freddy: "By irritating the Nile."

Lady Visitor (to boy's mother): "Can't little James recite some of the verse he learns at school?"
Boston Jamie: "No, Poetry, according to my way of thinking, is without logical coherence and therefore devoid of interest, but I shall, if you desire, state some of the formulas of higher mathematics."

Porter: "Miss, yo' train is coming."
Pedantic Passenger: "My good man, why do you say 'your train' when you know that the train belongs to the company?"
Porter: "Dunno, miss. Why do yo' say 'mah man' when yo' knows Ah belongs to mah wife?"

Bride: "How much is your suit?"
Grocer: "Ten cents a bag, ma'am."
Bride: "Is it perfectly fresh?"

Grocer: "No, sir! No cheques. I wouldn't cash a cheque for my own brother."

Customer: "Well, of course, you know your family better than I do."

Mrs. Brown: "But why should your husband want to sell your new car?"

Mrs. Smith: "Oh, he says the outgo for upkeep is too much for his income."

Mabelle was a poetess. But she married a plumber man; More cash in the pipes of a plumber. She says, "than in the pipes of Pan."

"With a single stroke of a brush," said the school teacher, taking his class round the National Gallery, "Joshua Reynolds could change a smiling face to a frowning one."

Rastus: "Well, sah, when Ah looked in de glass dis mornin' Ah couldn't see meself there, so Ah thought Ah'd gone to work. It was only some time afterward dat Ah discovered dat de glass had dropped out ob de frame!"

"It's a fine day," said the barber.

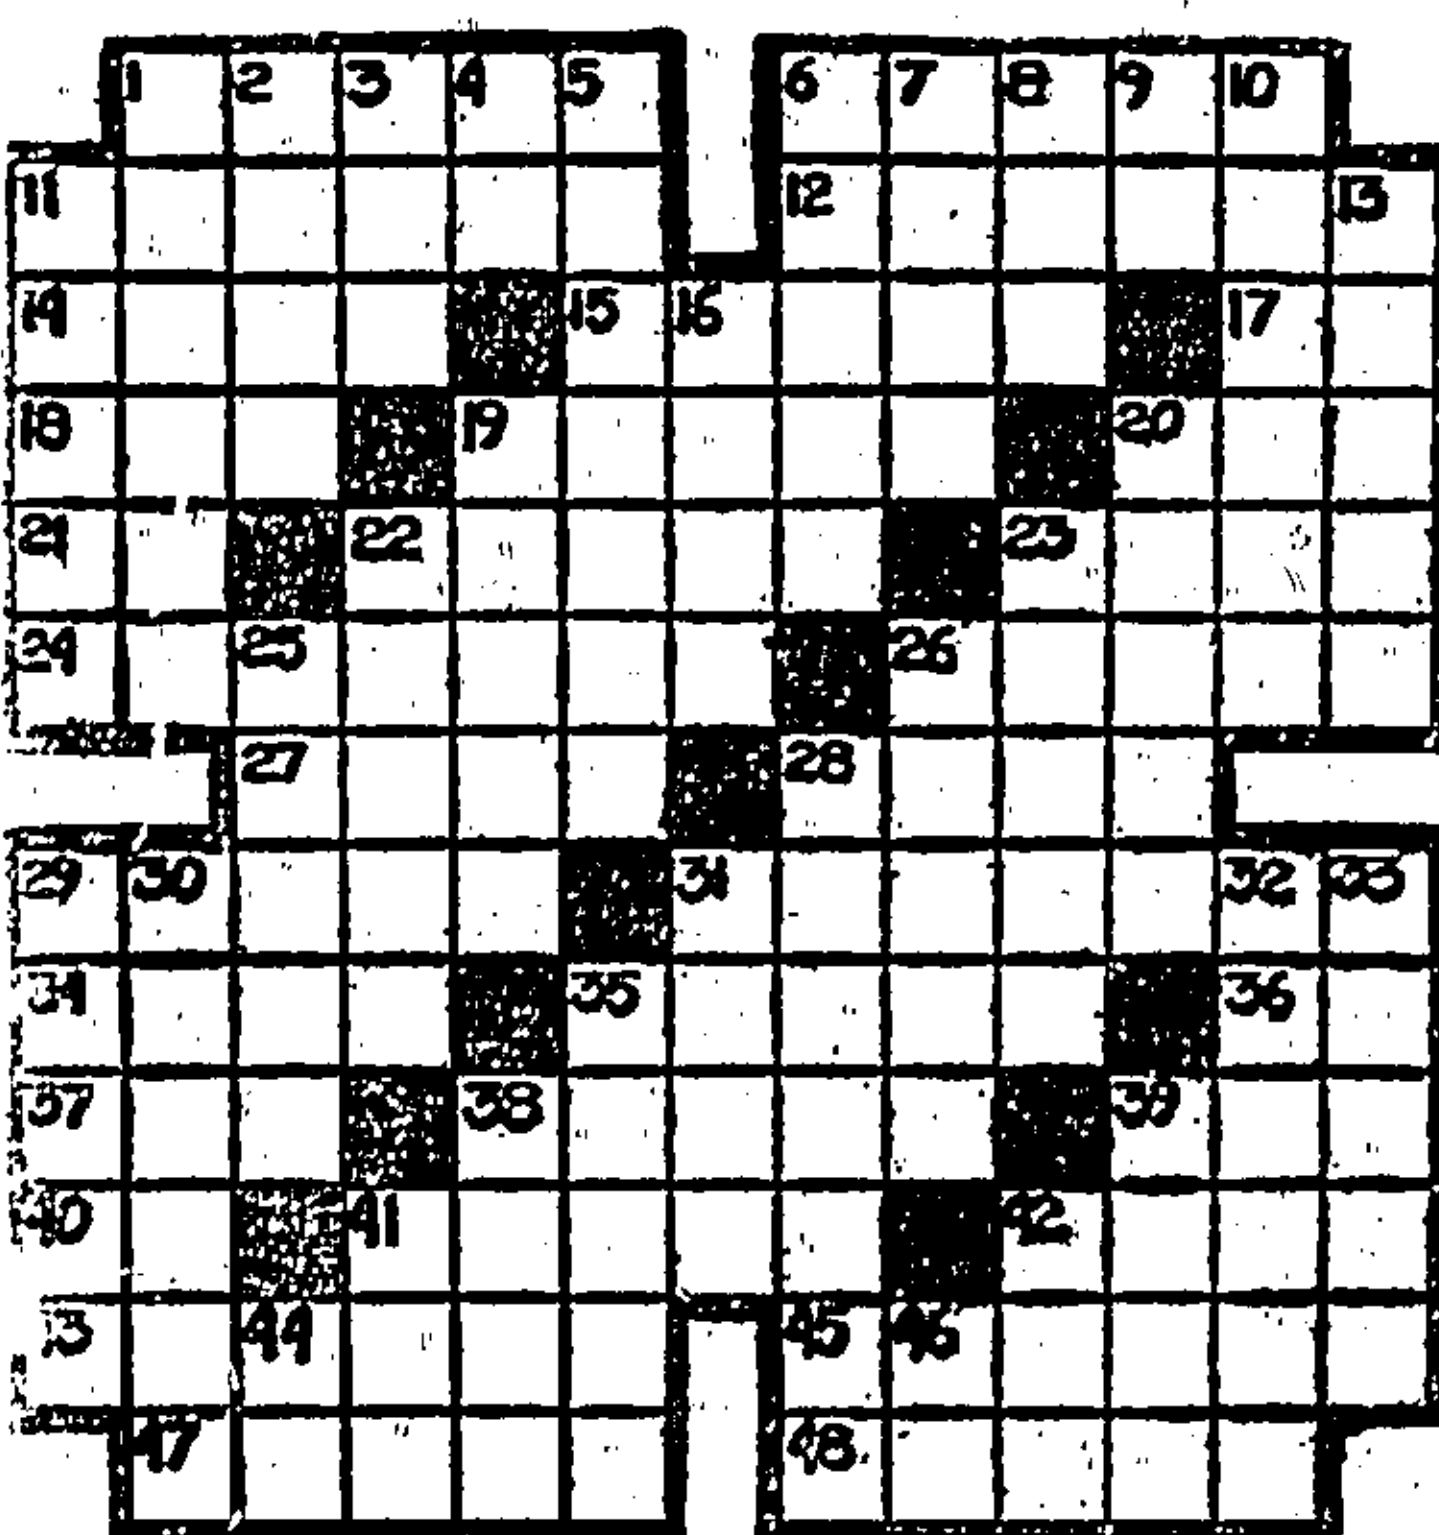

"It is," agreed the little man, who was about to be shaved. There was a long silence. The barber tried again.

"What party do you favour in the coming election?" he asked. "The same one as yourself," said the little man.

This was too much for the barber. "Look here, sir," he said, "how on earth do you know what my opinions are?"

"I don't," said the customer; "but you've got the razor."

SNAPSHOTS OF A MAN MEETING THE FAMILY

By GLUYAS WILLIAMS

PICTURES AND PLAYS.

The play, "The First Mrs. Fraser," written by St. John Ervine, is quite in the Haymarket's best modern comedy vein. The name-part, splendidly acted by Marie Tempest, who (of course) also had a magnificent reception, has divorced her husband long before the curtain rises. That ex-husband (the Ainley role), a Scot with much of the caniness of his race, has since married a very young and pretty but very vulgar and selfish minx, who, in effect, giving her middle-aged spouse undiluted Inferno. It is not altogether surprising, therefore, that Fraser, being still friendly with his family, keeps barging into his ex-wife's house for "advice" and a "little peace and quiet." Nor will it amaze you to learn that having, after much tribulation, contrived to divorce his frivolous, faithless second spouse, Fraser shows signs of settling down again in marriage with the First Mrs. F.

Throughout the theatrical world deep regret is expressed at the death of the famous manager, Mr. Robert Arthur. Mr. Arthur, who was 73, had a long Scottish managerial career before coming to London. He built the Kennington Theatre and long ran it with great success. He also managed several suburban and provincial playhouses and became managing director of Robert Arthur Theatres, Limited. One of his most recent managerial posts was at the Croydon Grand. He was a very earnest worker and highly esteemed by all who knew him.

In the past week six American companies have announced the names of 215 talking pictures to be presented to the public in the film year which begins on the first of August. The most interesting feature of these announcements is the great number of original stories being specially written, for talking picture production, by distinguished novelists and dramatists. This is important as showing the revolt from the adaptation which the chief stand-by and the chief reproach of the silent film. Moreover, it seems reasonable to suppose that these stories will have real merit, since there is indication of a high standard of drama in the selection of such subjects as "The Passing of the Third Floor Back," "Such Men are Dangerous," "Disraeli," "The Green Goddess," "The Sign on the Door," "Condemned to Devil's Island," "The Last Waltz," and "The Dollar Princess."

The late Dr. Rudolf Steiner's method for teaching elocution was illustrated by a section of the Goetheanum Speech Chorus from Dornach recently at Rudolf Steiner Hall. The executives, comprising twelve men and twelve women, recited in unison a number of poems with a unanimity and truth of inflection always impressive and at times with thrilling effects that attested to elaborate and concentrated rehearsal.

Universal will re-make "The Storm" with full dialogue and sound. "The Storm" was released as a silent picture by Universal in 1922. It established a gross rental record that stood until the release of "The Hunchback of Notre Dame."

Addition of dialogue and sound should make "The Storm" even stronger drama. The dialogue and synchronization rights have been purchased by Universal from the playwright, Langdon McCormick. As a stage play, "The Storm," had a long run at the Broadhurst Theatre, New York, with Helen MacKellar in the leading role.

Reginald Barker directed "The Storm" as a motion-picture. The principal roles being played by House Peters, Virginia Valli and Matt Moore. "The Storm" will soon go into production at Universal for next season's release.

THE WOMAN'S CORNER.

NIGHTCAPS AND CORDIALS.

MULLED ALE.

The good country ale is flavoured with sugar and spice, thickened with beaten-up eggs and laced with rum. It is heated in an old beer-heater, a long, conical-shaped copper horn with a big curved handle, which is pushed into the heart of the fire until the mixture froths, when it is properly mulled and ready to be served in mugs.

Mulled wine is very good, too, and often accompanies the women-folk upstairs.

Port or claret flavoured with sugar and cinnamon is sometimes used, but generally our own home-made wines from the farmhouse cellar make the bedtime cordials.

To Ward Off Colds.

Elderberry, also, damson, and black-currant wines, with the addition of sugar, lemon and boiling water, all make pleasant nightcaps, raspberry and ginger cordials are very popular, too.

Ginger cordial is made by first bruising the ginger roots, simmering them for hours, and adding sugar and lemon—it is excellent for warding off a cold or getting rid of feverish chills.

DO YOU KNOW?

Darning table linen calls for exquisite work if the darns are to be neat and inconspicuous.

It is a good plan to stitch a piece of fine white net on the wrong side of the article, over the hole. Then run your stitches in and out of the holes in the net, taking up a little of the linen around the hole. In this way the darn can be kept perfectly flat and even, and the net also strengthens the weak place.

The same method can be used for darning stockings, using coloured net to match.

Egg nog, caudle and milk punch are for the invalids and convalescents. Egg, the white and yolk beaten separately, boiling milk, sugar and sherry go to make egg nog, while caudle is made of thin gruel into which eggs are beaten, and spiced wine is slowly stirred until the gruel becomes creamy.

The Flick of Brandy.

Milk punch has a flick of brandy added to a mixture of hot milk, lemon and sugar, and the proportion of half a glass of rum to half a pint of milk, sweetened and flavoured with nutmeg—it needs a very bad cold to withstand that.

The children have their nightcaps, too. Hot milk with a teaspoonful of treacle added, honey and lemon drinks and black currant jam cordial are all favourites, and are administered when the youngsters are in bed so that they can be cosily tucked up afterwards.

CLEAN THE THROAT.

Rheumatic heart disease results from infections generally classified under the term streptococci. "Do not shy from the word," says Dr. E. Rodney Fiske of New York. "It is a dangerous one."

He reminds us that Dr. Cabot of Boston calls the streptococcus the worst enemy of mankind. There are many varieties of this form of bacterium, but some varieties have a special faculty of attacking the heart and blood vessels, producing rheumatic heart disease.

"A diseased mouth, infected gums and teeth or diseased and infected tonsils, are the principal ports of entry into the body of these germs," explains Dr. Fiske. "Other mucous surfaces, such as the nasal passages and sinuses, may also permit the passage of these bacteria and their products into the blood stream and thence to the heart and blood vessels. The result of such blood stream infection is an active inflammation involving first the lining membrane of the heart and later its muscle structure."

The answer then for protection is obvious: Early and constant care of the mouth and throat.

"The rheumatic heart diseases occur in the early decades of life, when contagious diseases of streptococcal origin are more prone to occur, so that the young form a large percentage of this group, especially from 10 to 20 years of age."

Many of these cases could have been prevented if diseased teeth, gums and tonsils had been properly cared for. Tonsils are the worst offenders, and should be removed with any positive evidence of infection. A clean throat usually means a clean heart.

CINEMA NEWS.

"HOMESICK" DRAWS GOOD HOUSES.

Those who like comedies will thoroughly enjoy "Homesick," which kept the audience at the Queen's Theatre in hysterics from the beginning to the end at all performances of this comedy yesterday. Of the type popularly known as "slap-stick comedies," this picture proved to be distinctly entertaining film fare, introducing several new and funny "gags."

Sammy Cohen of "What Price Glory" fame and Harry Sweet supply all the fun, the former as Sammy Schnaber and the latter as Ambrose. Through an "ad" in the papers, they learn of the existence of "Babe" (Majorie Beebe), a maid in a household in California. Both (unknown to each other, of course) reply to the "ad" and with due encouragement—that worthy girl sends each of her admirers a photo—both aspire to marry her.

Then the fun begins. In their desire to win enough money to plunge into matrimony, both go through many comical situations before Sammy enters a cross-country bicycle race in an attempt to win the prize-money. Ambrose, who has lost all his money to Sammy at poker, follows in a car to recover his lost possessions, but being accursed with corns, he comes off second best in all his encounters with Sammy, who is aware of his weak spot.

Sammy eventually wins the cross-country race despite all the obstacles set up by Ambrose, besides having to avoid a herd of buffaloes, cross a desert and fight a forest fire. The end is also in keeping with the rest of the picture, even the final fade-out being extremely comical.

Sammy Cohen and Harry Sweet make an excellent comedy team and "Homesick" can be thoroughly recommended for an hour and a half of continuous entertainment.

News from New York states that plans are being laid to strengthen the ties between Wall Street and Lombard Street by means of international athletic meetings for their representatives. At present the proposal is that contests in golf, lawn tennis, and athletics and possibly rowing, should be arranged, and Wall Street will probably send envoys to London to negotiate such meetings. Various prominent athletes connected with Wall Street are sponsoring the scheme, and powerful financial organisations, such as the Guaranty Trust Company and Equitable Trust Company, and many large brokerage firms have promised their support.

WEEK-END AQUATIC FIXTURES.

V.R.C. NIGHT FETE: CHINESE HARBOUR RACE.

INTERNATIONAL WATER POLO.

A NEW LONG PLUNGE CHAMPION.

[By "WATERMAN."]

There was a long programme of swimming events over the week-end. The V.R.C. held a successful night fete in which two Championship events were decided; the South China Club held their Harbour race in which the winner employed the breast stroke almost all the way. Yesterday the Chinese continued their sport and staged a good programme. The St. John Ambulance Brigade held their fixture at King's College and altogether these interested in swimming had their hands full over the week-end.

V.R.C. GALA.

JOHNSTONE WINS 100 YARDS CHAMPIONSHIP.

The feature of the V.R.C. night fete were the two Championship events open to the Colony. J. R. Johnstone, as was generally expected, won the hundred yards, but he failed to repeat his record breaking time of 58.4 seconds. I understand he will make an attempt later in the season to touch the bath record set by Takashi, the Japanese Olympic swimmer, when the latter was passing through Hong Kong, three years ago. The Japanese swimmer's time in the V.R.C. bath for two lengths was 58.1 seconds and Johnstone, I understand will go all out to touch this mark.

In the long plunge championship, Chiu Keong Wah annexed the honours by plunging 50 ft. 8 1/2 inches and beating J. R. Soares by 13 1/2 inches. There was a good entry and the standard on the whole was satisfactory.

A water polo match between England and Portugal resulted in a win for the latter by one goal. Lawrence being responsible for the winning shot. The game was fairly even, with the Portuguese having slightly the better of arguments all the way and the result was a fair reflection on the relative strength of the teams.

The R.G.A. again proved that they were the best Service swimming team. They won the team race (inter-Service) with plenty to spare.

Ed. da Rosa again annexed the honours in connection with the diving. Two plain dives from the platform and two fancy dives were required and Rosa won by a long margin. G. A. V. Hall was a good second.

The Results.

Long Plunge (Championship of the Colony).—1, Chiu Keong Wah, 50 ft. 8 1/2 ins.; 2, J. R. Soares, 55 ft. 8 ins.

Water Polo.—Portugal beat England by one goal to nil.

The teams were:—
Portugal: Rocha (V.R.C. "B"), Soares (V.R.C. "A"), Remedios (V.R.C. "B"), Marcal (V.R.C. "A"), C. Rosa Pereira (V.R.C. "A"), L. Rosa Pereira (V.R.C. "B"), and W. Lawrence (V.R.C. "B").

England: Hampton (R.N.), Lt. Howard (S.L.I.), Hailton (Kowloon), Davies (R.N.), Witchell (Kowloon), Simpson (Kowloon), and Earley (S.L.I.).

S.C.A.A. HARBOUR RACE.

BREAST STROKS SWIMMER WINS EASILY.

BROTHERS' SUCCESS.

There were good entries in the South China A.A.'s Harbour Race on Saturday last. Altogether sixty-six swimmers took the water. Of these eleven were ladies and four were boys under fifteen. The ladies and boys were given five minutes start.

The eventual winner of the race was Yeung Yuen Wah whose time from the Channel Road Light to a line on the South China Bathing beach was 32 minutes 57.1/5 seconds. The winner employed the breast stroke most of the way and only within the last hundred yards, when his brother Yeung Hang Wah pressed on him, did he change over to the "crawl." The second man also used the breast stroke mainly.

Actually the first to finish was Yeung Yuk Wah, another brother of the winner, but Yuk Wah had a five and half minutes start, his actual swimming time being 38 minutes 21 seconds.

Tan Chan Hing, the well-known Chinese swimmer was amongst the swimmers but was not officially competing. He was swimming for fun this year as his entry was received late by the officials. Tan finished the course in 31 minutes 38 seconds, beating the official winner by over a minute.

SOUTH CHINA A.A. SPORTS.

INTERESTING TIE FOR CHAMPIONSHIP.

No fewer than four swimmers tied for the Club's championship in the South China A.A. sports held yesterday afternoon at North Point, when there was a large gathering of members and friends to watch the proceedings.

Rain in the morning threatened to spoil the sport, but fortunately kept off long enough during the afternoon to enable the fixture to be carried through without delay.

The four swimmers who tied for championship honours were Messrs. Wong Ki Leung, Chan Ki Chung, Yeung Yuen Wah and Yeung Hang Wah.

Two of the club's records were lowered in the course of the afternoon's sport, the fifty metres being done in 31.2/5 seconds and the 300 metres being covered in 3 minutes 14 1/2 seconds.

The Chinese Bathing Club, entering six good swimmers easily accounted for the inter-club team race.

The prizes were given away at the conclusion of the sports by Mrs. M. K. Lo. In introducing Mrs. Lo, Mr. Ho Yu, the Chairman of the Club, thanked the visitors and the athletes for all they have done to make the sport by no means to rest contented at their present progress. He hoped that the swimmers of the club would go on from success to success until they become the envy of all other clubs.

THIEF'S HILLSIDE CACHE.

DETECTIVE'S PATIENT VIGIL.

Li Ching (16) appeared at the Kowloon Magistracy before Mr. T. S. Whyte-Smith charged with the theft of a gold dress watch, valued at $150; a gold chain valued at $15; a gold and jade pendant valued at $10; a gold coin valued at $4; a gold fish valued at $5; a silver cigarette case valued at $10, and a blue serge jacket valued at $13; all the property of Mr. Lei Bing-fan of 748 Nathan Road, Kowloon.

Defendant pleaded guilty to the charge.

Inspector Hoare, who prosecuted stated that defendant was seen by a Chinese detective who was on duty at the junction of Prince Edward-road and Nathan-road at 4 a.m. on September 24 to act in a suspicious way. He followed him, and when the defendant came to 748, he entered and went upstairs.

Detective's Search.

The detective waited and then followed him, but half way up he met him and, on searching him, found a silver cigarette case. After being questioned, the defendant admitted that he had stolen it from the first floor. He then took the detective with him to a spot on the hillside at Kowloon Tong, where all the other articles were recovered.

The total value of the stolen property was $215. His Worship, in remarking that it was a very big theft, sentenced the defendant to five months' hard labour, and ordered the articles to be restored to the complainant.

Previous convictions showed that the defendant had served 14 days in June this year for unlawful possession of stolen property.

Inspector Hoare brought the fact to his Worship's notice that the defendant had been let off for larceny many a time, and, on the last occasion he was sent to the Street Boys' Club, where he stayed for four days and then ran away.

STRANGE ASSAULT STORY.

SEQUEL TO A NIGHT AT CARDS.

Charged with slushing his wife with a chopper at West Point on Saturday, a couple told Mr. E. W. Hamilton, acting First Magistrate, that his wife was addicted to gambling, going out night after night and neglecting their two young children.

Inspector Bloor said that was the explanation he received from the accused, but the woman, who was now in Hospital, suffering from a cut across the neck, denied that she was the man's wife. She said he met her in the street, presumably returning from an overnight game at cards, and slashed her with a chopper which he suddenly picked up from the nearest street stall.

Accused reiterated that the woman was his wife and asked how his two babies were to be cared for, with the woman in Hospital and he in the Gaol. He asked for a small bail, as he was anxious to get back to his children.

His Worship, in granting a remand, fixed bail in a personal bond of $50.

SHEK O COUNTRY CLUB CHAMPIONSHIP.

CLOSING DATE.

The Fifth Annual Championship of the Club will be held on Sunday, October 20. The competition will be played over 36 holes medal play. Members intending to play should submit their names together with the names of their partners to the Secretaries Messrs. Thomson & Co., on or before Thursday, October 10.

BANKNOTES IN CANTON.

A TICKLISH POSITION.
SOME ABSURD RUMOURS.

(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.)

CANTON, September 29.

In compliance with the request of the silk merchants, the Government has modified its regulations governing the exportation of silver coins from Canton. It will be remembered that the Government, in view of the run on the Central Bank of China in Canton, last week prohibited the exportation of silver exceeding $50, the purpose being to conserve cash within Canton. But this has meant hardship for the silk merchants who had to have cash to buy raw silk in Sun Tak and other outlying districts. The sixth crop of raw silk of this year was ready for the market, and big sums of money in silver were needed with which to make the purchases.

Hence these merchants sent a petition to the Government requesting the removal of the embargo on silver. The petition was granted, provided each shipment did not exceed $5,000, and the exporters were bona fide silk dealers. The Government, however, specified that this applies to silk merchants only and to no one else.

Government agents are still vigilantly watching the two bridges leading into Shamoon and all the wharves where boats are at anchor, lest some one should carry silver out of Canton.

BANK MATTERS.

The run on the Central Bank of China, in Canton, which had been dying down since the Government made its announcement concerning the redemption of its banknotes, suddenly started again yesterday afternoon, for some unknown reason. In the morning it was thought to be all over, there being very few people in the bank demanding cash for their banknotes. But from one o'clock on in the afternoon, the bank was again crowded to capacity. The men demanding change were practically all of the coolie class. The writer, who was on the spot, asked some of the men what it was all about. They said they did not know, as they were only folks hired for the purpose.

Later on in conversation with some of the money changers the writer was told that the fresh panic was due to news appearing in certain Hong Kong Chinese newspapers, which had said that the local financial authorities had received instructions from Mr. T. V. Soong to the effect that the Bank should stop redeeming its notes. The Nanking Finance Minister, according to the message, urged the Canton Government to accept only 20 per cent. in the old banknotes signed by the preceding management of the Bank, when the people are paying taxes. The other 80 per cent. must be paid in silver, or in the new banknotes signed in China by the present managing-director, Mr. Chow Min Chu.

Such news upset local financial circles, and the merchants apparently are taking no chances. But according to informations from official circles, Mr. T. V. Soong merely sanctioned the financial policy of the local regime in regard to the redemption of the Government Bank notes. There are no restrictions whatever laid on the cashing of the new notes. But apparently the merchants want to be on the safe side, for they claim that the Bank might refuse to cash any or all of its notes at any time without advance notice.

All the new banknotes are again accepted at par value by the larger business firms in the city.

ROUND THE COURTS.

SNATCHER SENTENCED.

Convicted of a charge of snatching a handbag from Miss Veronica Lee, a telephone operator, at Wanchai Road on Friday, a Chinese was sentenced by Mr. E. W. Hamilton to twelve months' hard labour and a flogging. It was stated that after snatching the bag, the thief disappeared into a house in Tai Yuen Street, but a search later revealed the handbag hidden in the premises.

ANOTHER MUI TSAI CASE.

A fine of $25 was imposed by Mr. A. W. G. H. Grantham on a woman living on the second floor of No. 119 First Street, on a charge of taking into her employ a mui tai aged 12. It was stated that the case arose out of an attempted suicide by the girl recently. Inquiries by the authorities led to a summons being taken out against defendant for keeping a mui tai and with ill-treating her.

His Worship dismissed the count of ill-treatment, but registered a conviction for keeping a mui tai.

IN HOSPITAL.

Four Chinese appeared before Mr. T. S. Whyte-Smith on charges of fighting in Sai Kung-road, near the Kowloon City Police Station, and with resisting arrest from P.C. B602 Mohammed Hassan. Sergt. Sherry informed his Worship that one defendant was in hospital, and he would therefore ask for a 48 hours' remand.

His Worship granted the remand, placing two of the defendants in police custody. The other is on bail in the sum of $30.

OPIUM IN BASKET.

Arrested at the Kowloon-Canton Railway Station between Fanning and Sheungshui, and found in the possession of 9.5 tins of raw opium, a Chinese woman was fined $250 or, in default, one month's jail with hard labour. The opium was discovered hidden in one of two baskets full of fruit which the defendant had with her and was ordered to be confiscated.

DIS LA'LE CHICKEN.

Pleading that she did not know it was an offence to steal a chicken a Chinese village woman was cautioned by Mr. T. S. Whyte-Smith.

GIRL'S HEAVY FINE.

FOR CARRYING OPIUM.

The Chinese girl who had been remanded by Mr. E. W. Hamilton, at the Central Magistracy, on a charge of possession of 35 tins of prepared non-Government opium, made another appearance in Court on Saturday.

Revenue Officer Grimmit told the Magistrate that he has sent some of his men to Yau-mat to inquire among the boat people there if anyone's daughter was missing, but their search was fruitless. He added that even now he was willing to take the girl over if she would say where she had got the opium from.

Mysterious Coolie.

Questioned by the Magistrate, the girl said that the opium was given to her by a coolie to carry for him. She was to meet him at a street corner.

His Worship imposed a fine of $950 and ordered the confiscation of the opium. In view of the girl's age, he hesitated about giving her the usual term of imprisonment, in lieu of the fine, and instead ordered her to go to jail for only seven days.

When the girl first came up before his Worship, Mr. Grimmit explained that when arrested she refused to say anything about herself except that she belonged to a sampan in the harbour, and when an offer was made to take her out in a motor boat to look for the sampan she said that she did not know where it was.

The girl gave her age as 11 years, but Mr. Grimmit thought that she was older.

EDGAR WARWICK RETURNS.

WITH NEW LONDON COMPANY

It is some time since we have had a visit from one of Edgar Warwick's excellent companies, and it is therefore with keen anticipation, that Hong Kong theatre-goers are looking forward to the forthcoming visit of Mr. Warwick's new Revue Company, which comes direct from London via India and the Straits, and opens at the Star Theatre, Kowloon shortly in a series of "revues of the reviews," which means, all that is best and brightest from all the current London revues.

There will be something to please everyone, for Edgar Warwick is a past master in catering to the theatrical tastes of the East. In the course of the past twenty years, Mr. Warwick has brought every kind of theatrical attraction known—with the exception of a circus—and he tells us he is never likely to start in that line.

Miss Eileen Dawn, who in private life is Mrs. Edgar Warwick, arrived on Saturday and is making the necessary arrangements for the forthcoming season.

The members of the company are all well-known London artists of repute including Selwyn Driver the famous London entertainer whose name is a sure "box office attraction." He has played in several London Theatres and before many of the crowned heads in Europe. He has received many commands to Buckingham Palace.

Rex Burchell, another fun-maker with a big reputation, is a comedian with a most attractive personality. He is one of those people who get on intimate terms with the audience right away. His individual "turn" invariably holds up the show.

Enid Nicholson, an engaging young lady with the bluest of blue eyes, and an unshingled head of beautiful real golden hair, and the voice of a nightingale, is another of the many delightful artists in Edgar Warwick's New Company. Miss Nicholson was formerly with the D'Oyly Carte Company and her delightfully pure soprano is indeed a pleasure to listen to both in solo work, and blending together with Robert Poole's fine baritone.

It is said that since the sad death of the famous baritone Gervase Elwes through a motor accident in America, the Gramophone Co. have been endeavouring to find a voice of similar timbre and quality to take his place on the company's list of fine singers, and they have been quite unsuccessful, until their last competition brought Robert Poole to their notice, in finding a substitute that could in any way approach the fine standard of the late Gervase Elwes. Now, so popular have Robert Poole's records become, that it is necessary at the end of this tour for Mr. Poole to make many more records in the London studio to meet the increasing demand for his records.

The effortless production, elegant quality, and delightful timbre of his voice, record perfectly, and music lovers should not miss an opportunity of purchasing his records if obtainable in the Colony.

The terpsichorean art is represented by two most talented artists in Barbara Weale and Guy Latham. Of her dancing partner Guy Latham, much could be said and still be inadequate.

Jean Wells, L.R.A.M., A.R.C.M. also plays a prominent part in the programme.

Plans open on Tuesday next, at Moutrie's.

POLICE CHIEFS TO CONFER.

MR. T. H. KING VISITS CANTON.

Mr. T. H. King, Captain Superintendent of Police, left Hong Kong on Saturday on the Kinsham for Canton. Also a passenger on the boat was Mr. Lai Shui, one of the two principal Chinese detectives.

No information was given in regard to Mr. King's visit but, it is understood, he will confer with the Police authorities of Canton as to the further co-operation between Canton and Hong Kong in the maintenance of order, and also that other important subjects will be discussed.

CHIEF OFFICER OF "KIN SHAN."

TO BE WED TO-DAY.

We learn that Capt. Robert McAndrew Perez de Sala, a popular officer on the Canton and Hong Kong run, is to be married to-day at the British Consulate, Shamone, to Miss Violet Wong Mei To.

Capt. de la Sala is the author of "Let's See," a handy reference book on navigation. He is at present chief officer of the s.s. Kin Shan.

TREATY REVISION.

TALKS BETWEEN CHINA AND JAPAN.

NANKING, Sept. 13.

It is expected that the question of the removal of extraterritoriality will constitute a serious block in the coming negotiations for the revision of the Sino-Japanese Treaty of Commerce and Navigation, which will be started by Mr. Sadao Saburi, new Japanese Minister to China.

The Chinese attitude toward Japan in diplomatic dealings has greatly changed, especially since the Sino-Soviet railway dispute arose, but in the matter of the revision of the commercial treaty it is generally believed that China will assume a strong attitude, especially in connection with the question of extraterritoriality.

It appears that Nanking is strongly determined to settle the question at this opportunity, while it is considered probable that Japan will not be able to satisfy Nanking in this respect.

When Mr. Okamoto, Japanese Consul at Nanking, recently called on Mr. Hu Han-min, Chief of the Board of Legislation and a member of the Foreign Affairs Committee, when he was about to return home, Mr. Hu stated that China wanted immediate and unconditional abolition of extraterritoriality. When Consul Okamoto said that it would be impossible, Mr. Hu was offended and stated that China will never agree to conditional abolition of extraterritoriality. After all, the question will form a Gordian knot at the coming Sino-Japanese treaty negotiations.—Osaka Mainichi.

SLASHED WATCHMAN'S FACE.

LAD DESCRIBED AS "BAD EGG."

A Chinese lad, described as an ex-member of the Street Boys' Club in Hong Kong and a source of trouble in Tsai Sha Tsui area, by Det. Sergt. Humphreys, was charged at Kowloon Magistracy before Mr. T. S. Whyte-Smith with assaulting a Chinese watchman on the P. and O. s.s. Mantua which berthed at No. 5 Kowloon Godown's Wharf.

Defendant was seen loitering on the deck of the ship, and when asked by the complainant to go, he pulled out a pen-knife and stabbed him in the face, causing a deep wound.

The plea of the defendant was that he was going on board the ship to get some food from the English crew. Sergt. Humphreys overruled this by saying the defendant had no business to be on board the liner.

"A Small Boy."

The prosecuting officer said the defendant had previously been twice cautioned and several times "let off," because they considered him only a small boy.

The last time he appeared before the Magistrate was when he hit a Chinese on the head with a bamboo pole.

His Worship: How old are you? Defendant: Sixteen.

Det. Sergt. Humphreys: He is certainly a bad egg!

His Worship: Is he Hong Kong born?

Sergt. Humphreys: No, your Worship, Sum Chun.

His Worship: How about a flogging?

Sergt. Humphreys: He had 8 strokes in 1928. It does not seem to have done him much good.

His Worship: One month's hard labour.

The prosecuting officer then added that the defendant would probably be banished from the Colony.

KWONG WAH HOSPITAL.

MATERNITY BRANCH OPENED.

In the presence of a large number of prominent Chinese residents, including Mr. M. K. Lo (Chairman of the Tung Wah Hospital Board of Directors) and his colleagues and the Board of the Kwong Wah Hospital, the new maternity branch of the Kwong Wah Hospital in Yau-mat was formally opened by Mr. R. A. C. North, Secretary for Chinese Affairs, on Saturday.

With accommodation for over 100 patients, the new branch fills a long-felt want and it is hoped that its accommodation may be increased in the future.

The Kwong Wah Hospital is affiliated to the Tung Wah Hospital.

H.K.V.D.C. SPORTS.

[TO THE EDITOR OF THE "HONG KONG DAILY PRESS."]

SIR,—A most unfair and unsporting act on the part of a competitor in the Open Mile race at the Volunteers Athletic Meet on Saturday was the only dark spot in an otherwise bright afternoon's sport.

The incident I refer to happened in this manner. Towards the close of a particularly fine race, the three leading runners rounded the last curve and came tearing down the home stretch all closely bunched together. Forty yards from the tape an Indian soldier was in front, with the other two hard on his heels. The leader was "bugging the rail," the second man, Private Balsh, of the Somerset Light Infantry—was directly behind him, while another Indian was almost brushing the Somerset runner. Suddenly Balsh shot out a hand, grabbed the Indian ahead of him by the arm, and vigorously thrust him aside. It was a deliberate foul, meriting complete disqualification. The offender carried on running and finished first, just managing to beat the two Indians, who came in second and third, respectively.

Balsh's action had been clearly witnessed by the large crowd of onlookers and there was considerable comment by a number of indignant spectators after the race was over. The Sports officials held a long discussion before naming the winner. It must have come as a surprise to most of those present that the outcome of this conference was that Private Balsh was awarded first place, his name being posted on the board as the winner of the event.

On opening my newspaper this (Sunday) morning I read that after the race a protest was lodged, quite naturally, against Balsh. Further I read that the two Indian runners were disqualified because they had not entered their names for the event. Be that as it may, Balsh had plainly broken a rule of athletics and he should, therefore, have been automatically ruled out. There should have been no question about it.

Why was not Balsh disqualified and "no race" declared? And why, after it had been submitted that the first of the two Indians had been entered for the race, was he disqualified?

I should be obliged if the judges at Saturday's sports will be kind enough to reply, in your columns, to the above questions. A statement of the facts coming from them will, I think, be appreciated by the sporting public.—Yours, etc.,

Hong Kong, September 29.

IMPRESSIVE NAVAL FUNERAL.

LT.-CMDR. LITTLETON BURIED.

Impressive scenes marked the funeral on Saturday of Pay-Lt.-Comdr. Hugh Littleton, R.N., of H.M.S. Titania. It will be remembered that the deceased officer fell into the harbour and was drowned early Friday morning. The body was recovered the same day by divers.

Covered by the Union Jack, the coffin was carried reverently from the Royal Naval Hospital by a party of officers from Titania and placed on a gun carriage which was drawn by ratings from H.M.S. Berwick.

A company of men from the same ship, in slow step with arms reversed, preceded the procession which marched to the solemn and poignant strains of Chopin's "March Funebre" and the "Dead March" from "Saul." Other detachments of officers and ratings followed, the last being a party of wreath-bearers.

Among the many beautiful floral tributes were three Naval crowns of fresh flowers, several magnificent floral anchors and a cushion of purple flowers resembling violets in appearance.

The body was laid to rest in the Protestant Cemetery, the Rev. H. W. Arscott, Chaplain of Titania, and a mesmate of the deceased officer, officiating.

A firing party from H.M.S. Berwick fired three volleys which were followed by the "Last Post" and "Reveille."

PRINTERY RAIDED.

POLICE SEARCH FOR "REDS."

The C.I.D. raided a house in Wellington Street late on Friday evening and afterwards entered the ground floor of a house a few doors away which is used as a printery.

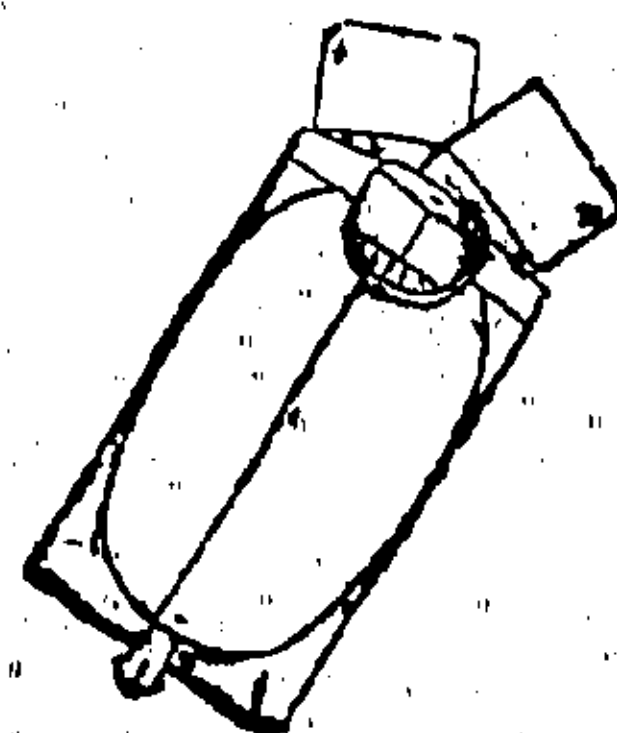

We understand that the raids were carried out on the strength of "information received" and that the police believed both houses to be the centre of Communist activity.

No arrests or seizures were made in either case.

Both houses are near the Police Headquarters.

ENGLISH WORDS IN FOREIGN LANGUAGES.

THIS afternoon H.E. the GOVERNOR will speak on the aims of the English Association at a meeting to be held in the Cathedral Hall. His Excellency holds the degree of Doctor of Literature, and may be expected to make an appeal in support of the Association as eloquent as it will be earnest. We have already expressed our own views on the subject, warmly approving the establishment of the society whose members—of all nationalities, providing they have a knowledge of English—may meet for friendly discussion of topics bearing upon the language and literature of England. It is estimated that the number of English-speaking people in the world to-day is close upon 300 millions, and within the next three generations will number 300 millions. Not only is the use of the English language spreading as a result of the natural increase in the number of people speaking it, but English words are being widely adopted by nations using other languages. Especially is this the case in regard to terms relating to sport, and in Japan and China many English words and expressions have been adopted and become common currency. This is a subject which some painstaking member of the soon-to-be-formed English Association may feel disposed to take up as a suitable topic for an entertaining paper to be read at a future meeting. It opens up a field for some wide and interesting research. French newspapers now-a-days contain quite a number of English words, and many have recently passed into the German language. Some of them are sport terms, like start, handicap, sprinter, fier, fighting, boxes, and a great many others—not forgetting the word "sport" itself which originally derived from the French "desport", now is freely used by every nation, including the French, in its English form. Other English contributions, to present-day German are: cocktail, jazz, and bar. Jazz is pronounced in every possible way, and is of masculine gender; "der Jazz." "Bar" is feminine, and means a dancing-hall in which a vaudeville programme is staged. The word "girl" also is understood everywhere in Germany and in Central Europe. The vogue of revues is responsible for this—in fact, it seemed impossible to find a German word which could be properly applied to a modern chorus-girl. "Girl" therefore became a German word. When words pass from one language into another they almost always change their meaning. Thus the German word "girl" has not exactly the same meaning as the English original. First of all it is, oddly enough, of the neuter gender; "das girl." "Das Girl" is not any girl whatever, but a very specific sort of girl. It may be a show-girl of course, but it may be a young, very slim, and athletic young female person of any occupation. The characteristics of "das girl" are short hair, a liberal amount of legs, efficiency in sport and dancing, and a certain disregard for the comfort of older people. In fact, she is not unlike her younger sister, the "flapper," but she differs from her on many points. For instance, she does not crave being "taken out" to dinners and dances; she spurns accepting gratuities; she is mostly hard-worked and responsibly-minded.

These qualities, as well her amazingly pretty looks, make "das girl" extremely popular. It seems that all magazines only exist for the purpose of glorifying her. As her picture is lavishly strewn all over every illustrated publication, the public gradually became acquainted with every phase of her strenuous life, which consists of an endless succession of sporting practice, now and then interrupted by moments of some tiresome bread-winning occupation. The German language has produced a strange compound with "girl": "Girlikultur"—the conception of life championed by the pretty-girl magazines. Many people, mostly of the older generation, frown upon Girlikultur. They contrast the "girl type" with the "motherly type," and denounce the former as a danger to State and morals. But the Girl, supported by the younger generation, of either sex, firmly holds the field.

Another English word recently naturalised in German is "song." That it has been added to the language is solely due to a fad of one of the most prominent young poets, BEAT BRECHT, who insisted on describing his poems as "songs." They were, he implied, not ordinary poems, such as were written by other German poets, but entirely new in character, so that only a new word was fit to design them. It is curious that the French poet VERLAINE resorted to the same method in order to point out his breach with French tradition, but he used the German word "Lied" when referring to his poems. VERLAINE wrote lieder; BRECHT writes songs. He started something like a literary revolution by introducing the Anglo-Saxon spirit in German poetry. Some say that he simply imitates Kipling. It is true that he is taking much delight in the East, in the gigantic and picturesque adventure of life "east of Suez," and in the anonymous gallantry of the Victorian trooper. But all this is superficial. BRECHT is a revolutionary at heart; he glorifies the East and the British soldier simply because they are different from the West and the Western "bourgeois." BRECHT included some of his songs in his plays, and one of these—an adaptation of the Beggar's Opera—was the hit of last season. The songs had a tremendous success, and as a result the word "song" found admission to the German vocabulary. It is a delightful method of invading new territory.

For the first time in a fortnight, fires which have been sweeping Oregon, Washington and parts of California have been brought under control. At a meeting of the Chinese Pilots Association in Shanghai the chairman, Mr. Chang Shu Seng, said that the association would continue to fight for the rendition of China's shipping and pilotage rights, and would not rest until foreign vessels had been driven from Chinese waters. It was proposed, he said, to send students to England and Germany to obtain practical experience, and that the Chinese would be prepared for the day when her sovereign rights were restored.

Arthur Schreiber, the boy who won world notoriety and a good deal of opprobrium by stowing away in the French trans-Atlantic aeroplane Yellow Bird, suffered a fractured skull and other critical injuries in an automobile accident at Newbury, Mass., last week. Newspapers throughout the world assailed Schreiber at the time of the "Yellow Bird" flight, as the "plane's" forced descent off Spain, failing to reach Paris, its objective, was generally attributed to his extra weight.

Karel Kozeluh, Europe's "wonder player," expected to regain his title in the United States Professional Tennis Championship, which he opened at Forest Hills last week. Vincent Richards, one of the few men ever to defeat Kozeluh, is expected to be runner-up. Kozeluh is described as a player of the "iron man" type, avoiding flashy and spectacular stunts and driving deeply with great force. He is considered to be better than any amateur tennis star and has beaten most of them in training matches.

Completing what is believed to be the fastest air record established in China Capt. W. R. Henderson and Capt. J. B. Macle, of the Shanghai-Nanking air mail service, made a return flight several days ago from the capital in 1 hr. 17 min. for the 170 miles. They had made a joint trip up in the morning in two planes because of the amount of mail matter, and came back later in the day running before a heavy wind for the entire distance. Both planes took off at the same time and the landing at Shanghai was simultaneous. They were flying the Stinson-Detroit machines they use daily. Another interesting feature of the air mail service was the arrival of postbags for the four machines in use. They will be attached as quickly as possible and air mail service to Hankow will be started shortly, depending on arrangements completed by the Nanking officials.

Mr. Wen Taung Yao, the well-known statesman and diplomat, was the victim of a motor accident in Bubbling Well Road, Shanghai, last week and he is now at home recovering from injuries which he received. Mr. Wen, who is 58 years of age and who lives in Jessfield Road, had left his car and was about to enter the China United Assurance Building at about 12.30 p.m. on the day in question to finish. He was crossing the road when a motor car approached proceeding west to east. Mr. Wen, in endeavouring to pass through a stream of traffic, was struck by the off side of the car, and received a laceration of the knee and injuries about the face. He was at once taken to hospital for treatment and later allowed to go home.

Meagre radio advices received at Winnipeg last week said that the McAlpine geological party, including three leading Canadian geologists and two pilots, had landed its two aeroplanes safely after being reported missing for several days. The group had been flying to a point on the Arctic Ocean coast. Another geological party under General Frank Sutton, former Chang Tso Lin's adviser, had been asked to look for the McAlpine group. Meanwhile it was learned that Arthur Hurd Chute, an author, and George McKee, and Anselm Roach, aviators, were killed when their aeroplane crashed near Lake Manitoba, near Reykjavik Chute, en route to the northern regions seeking magazine material concerning life on the frozen frontier.

The Department of Finance, says the Japan Chronicle, has finished the examination of the rough estimates of all the departments for the coming fiscal year, and is to set about the drawing up of revised estimates, the revised ones to be referred back to the Departments. According to the Finance Department's plan, the total amount of the economy to be effected in the items of expenditure already voted will be something like ¥140,000,000. The Home Office, the War Department, the Department of the Navy, the Department of Communications and the Education Department have made a big cut in their respective expenditures, while the reduction made by the Department of Justice, the Department of Overseas Affairs, the Department of Agriculture and Forestry and the Department of Commerce and Industry is comparatively small.

Mr. Cheatham Deported.

For the third time James Cheatham, aged 33, has been arrested by the Kobe police on a charge of fraud. He was to be deported by the Kasagi-maru in accordance with the new policy of the police authorities. Cheatham is alleged to have obtained money from the public by fraudulent methods in Osaka last month, and was hiding in a cafe until he was rounded up by the other day. Convicted of similar frauds in Kobe, Cheatham was sentenced to ten months' imprisonment with hard labour in 1927. After coming out of prison, he opened an "office" in the former Tiger Building on the Tor Hotel road, and obtained money by the same old trick of false pretences and was again sentenced to one year's imprisonment. In July this year he was released from prison on the general amnesty in connection with the Imperial Enthronement, but soon returned to the same old game. As the further presence of such a habitual delinquent will not only cause an endless amount of trouble to the Japanese authorities, but also stain the good name of the British community in general, the authorities decided to deport him.

Trouble in Shanghai.

An Oldsmobile car belonging to a foreigner was damaged and several panes of glass were broken following a motor accident which occurred in Avenue Edward VII, near Kwangse Road, Shanghai, last week. It appears that the foreigner was driving his car in a westerly direction and had just passed the southern end of Kwangse Road when a Chinese rushed out from the side of the thoroughfare. It was impossible to avoid an accident and the man was struck by one of the mudguards and knocked down. The car was brought to a standstill and the foreigner got out with the intention of removing him to hospital, when a rumour was spread that the foreigner had knocked down and killed a Chinese and was trying to escape. A crowd soon gathered and the car was mobbed, the foreigner meanwhile having resumed his seat. The unruly elements then began to do as much damage as they could, smashing several panes of glass and denting the body of the machine. Realizing that the temper of the crowd was becoming uncontrollable, the foreigner waved his hand as though to inform the crowd that he did not wish to escape, but they persisted in swarming round in an ugly manner, so he put his foot on the accelerator and managed to drive away. Inquiries were later made at the Avenue Edward VII police-station but it was learned that no charge had been made in connection with the affair and that the name and nationality of the foreigner were unknown. The number of his car was not reported. The condition of the injured man is said not to be serious.

ENJOYABLE DAY ON THE "SUI TAI."

AN IMPROMPTU CONCERT.

A very pleasant trip was afforded the excursionists who travelled to Macao and back by the Sui Tai on Sunday, for in addition to the beautiful weather experienced, an unique ceremony awaited them on arrival. Since the above-mentioned steamer was burnt out a year ago, she has been without a "Joos," and the day being an appropriate one, the installation was carried out by a Chinese monk to the accompaniment of fire crackers and the usual "chin chinning" of the ship's company.

In the afternoon, a concert was held in the second class, the various items being excellently rendered by local talent. On the voyage from Macao to Hong Kong, the Aloha Serenaders, under the leadership of Mr. H. R. Sequeira, who had been entertaining the people of Macao during the week-end, kindly gave selections from their repertoire. They were encored again and again by a delighted audience and time alone brought a highly appreciated programme to an end.

BODY IN A SACK.

STRANGE REPORT FROM THE MAINLAND.

A report was received yesterday by the Police authorities to the effect that a man named Yeung Kwan, aged 53, was murdered at Saitowan on Saturday night and that his body had been placed in a sack.

Saitowan is on the mainland and is directly opposite Shaikwan. The report made to the Police was by a tailor living at 47, Cooke Street, who in turn had heard of the affair from a fok, whose master had sent him to notify the authorities.

The police are investigating.

Looking Back 25 Years.

Speaking in the Legislative Council the Hon. Mr. Shewan said:—"Somehow or other it seems impossible for us to look ahead and try to imagine what Hong Kong will be twenty years hence. I don't say that the Government are the only sinners in this respect; we, the people, are just as bad. We had so little foresight that we built the Hong Kong Club on half the piece of ground we could have obtained at the ridiculous price of $3 a foot. A year or two afterwards we had to buy half the remainder at double the price, and had to build a bridge across the road to get at it. A little imagination there would have saved us a lot of money and given us a much better club. It may be too late to do much for Hong Kong, but in Kowloon and the New Territory the Government have a splendid chance of laying deep their plans for the future. We want over there main roads, 125 ft. not 60 ft. wide, with broad boulevards and avenues with, I was going to say, roads of fine shade-giving trees down them. But the thought of so much firewood running to waste would be too harrowing to the feelings of the Colonial Secretary and his friend the Woodcutter when they took their walks abroad there. Don't tell me that it can't be done, we are tired of hearing of that word 'can't'; if you want to, then give us good reason; if it is want of money that prevents you doing these things properly, then let us have a Loan. How humiliating, how mortifying it was for me to be told the other day by a German friend who had recently been to Tsingtau, that there was not a road in Hong Kong that could compare with those they have in Tsingtau. Think of it, gentlemen! Hong Kong, the fifth port in the world! I do beseech the Government to look ahead for there will be tramways and railways someday in Kowloon, and we should not always leave work till the last minute and then do it in the scrappiest and cheapest manner possible."

Looking Back 50 Years.

The Hon. Chief Justice, Sir John Smale, sitting in Criminal Sessions, said that with reference to the three prisoners who were to be brought up for sentence to-day for trafficking in children, he was not prepared at present to pass sentence—not that he had any doubt or difficulty on the question of fact, or the question of punishment, but he wished more fully to express the grounds of his views and the generation of this very great question—grave in all respects, for various reasons—and which was especially to be dealt with great consideration in consequence of the period during which it had certainly existed unchecked in the Colony—he meant the question of domestic slavery. He had intended to have said something more on the subject, but as he would deal with the matter as fully as he could at the time when he passed sentence he would refrain from making any further observation now except this, that he understood the question affected no less than ten thousand persons in this Colony who are said to be domestic slaves. Whether this number included or excluded those wretched prostitutes, the poor girls and women who were working out by prostitution their ransom from the brothels, he had not been informed.

New York, Sept. 28.

ERUPTIONS!

[REUTER'S AMERICAN SERVICE.]

HAWAII, Sept. 29.
An earthquake to-day rocked Hilo, and ripped the main street apart in two places. The Kona district, sixty miles from Hilo, has been almost continuously shaken since September 23.

The Observatory reports fifty shocks in the last twenty-four hours. Two columns of lava are forcing their way to the surface, and will probably appear from the craters at Hualalai, and Mauna Loa.

STORM DAMAGE IN THE BAHAMAS.

HURRICANE IN NASSAU.

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

MIAMI, Fla., Sept. 28.
A hurricane in Nassau is reported to have resulted in twenty deaths and severe damage at sea.

Driven by a 70-mile an hour gale, the ocean breached the sea wall in several places, flooded the town, and wrecked practically all the small vessels in the harbour.

The gale also tore the steamer Princess Montague from her moorings, and drove her on the rocks, with ten passengers and 23 of the crew aboard.

Many houses were unroofed, while the Governor's residence and churches were badly hit.

Crops were destroyed, and lighting and telephones put out of action.

JAPAN'S IDEAS ON DISARMAMENT.

NEED FOR EXPANSION.

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

TOKYO, Sept. 28.
While the vernacular Press asserts that Admiral Takarabe has already been selected as head of the Japanese delegation to the Disarmament Conference, officials affirm that, pending receipt of a formal invitation, no decision will be made, although it is admitted that Mr. Matsudaira will be the second delegate if the conference is held in London.

In the meantime in well-informed circles it is averred that the Government through its Ambassadors in London and Washington has expressed the belief to Great Britain and America that other nations will be forced to expand instead of reducing their fleets if the tentatively fixed Anglo-American cruiser parity is allowed to stand.

It is understood that Japanese has intimated its earnest desire that the two countries should agree to lower the level sufficiently to prevent such an undesirable outcome.

NAVAL SCANDAL IN AMERICA.MORE WITNESSES TO BE

SHEARER'S WORK.

[REUTER'S AMERICAN SERVICE.]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.
All the American naval experts who attended the Geneva Conference of 1927 will be summoned before the Senate Committee which is enquiring into Shearer's activities. This comes about as a result of the sensational evidence of a journalist, Mr. Drew Pearson, who alleged that the experts were constantly with Shearer, and openly hoped for the failure of the conference.

KING'S GOOD WISHES.

"GOD-SPEED" TO THE PREMIER.

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

LONDON, Sept. 28.
Mr. Ramsay MacDonald, the Prime Minister, has sailed for the United States aboard the Cunard liner Berengaria. He was given an amazingly enthusiastic send off.

His Majesty the King last night addressed a Message to the Prime Minister as follows:

The King sent the following message to the Prime Minister: "On the eve of your journey I wish you God speed. It is a departure that will be surrounded with good wishes, for it is a contribution to those happy relations between two great peoples which must be an article of faith among all men of goodwill."

Mr. MacDonald replied: "With my humble duty to Your Majesty, I am deeply grateful for Your Majesty's gracious and kindly thought in sending me good wishes for the journey which, indeed I trust, will be a fruitful innovation."

The Premier also telegraphed thanking Mr. Mackenzie King for the arrangements made for his visit to Canada.

Way to Progress.

LONDON, LATER.

"I am going off in the hope of being able to do something to narrow the Atlantic," the Prime Minister told Reuter at Waterloo where he received a wildly enthusiastic send off by the 2.20 p.m. boat train to Southampton.

Mr. MacDonald re-emphasised that he did not expect that his stay in Washington would lead to spectacular developments as the result of the continued negotiations. He pointed out that before any progress in naval disarmament was possible, it was necessary that both Washington and London should devise a means of terminating the deadlock between them, which had arisen at Geneva in 1927. He very much wanted to see Mr. Hoover and other American public men, as there was so much work, apart from the direction of naval disarmament, to be done in co-operation, for which a mutual understanding and confidence were essential.

Premier's Message.

LONDON, Sept. 28.
Mr. Ramsay MacDonald, before his departure, sent a message to the Labour Party conference, which opens at Brighton on Monday, emphasising that any Anglo-American agreement achieved will only be a preliminary to a larger agreement, which must be reached in conference with other naval Powers, and later, in a preparatory commission at Geneva.

"SURRENDER TO MOSCOW."ANGLO-RUSSIAN TALKS
CRITICISED.

THE OPPOSITION VIEW

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

LONDON, Sept. 28.
"Surrender to Moscow" is how the editorials in the Times, the Daily Telegraph, and the Morning Post, construe yesterday's Foreign Office communique as regards negotiations with M. Dovgalevsky.

They emphasise that the Government has broken the pledge that Mr. Henderson gave to the House of Commons two months ago that there would be no resumption of relations without adequate safeguards and guarantees regarding debts and propaganda.

The Daily Telegraph urges that the time has arrived for an unqualified Conservative opposition.

An Earlier Report.

LONDON, Sept. 27.
A two-hour conversation between Mr. Henderson and M. Dovgalevsky to-day, resulted in an agreement on the list of subjects to be settled by negotiation on the resumption of full diplomatic relations, including an exchange of Ambassadors.

An agreement was practically reached between the British and Chinese Governments as regards the procedure for dealing with claims for damages to British nationals at Chinkiang in 1927. Chinese and British commissioners will be appointed to deal with the matter.

COOLIDGE'S SON MARRIED.

BRIDE'S OMISSION OF PRO-MISE TO OBEY.

[United Press.]

PLAINVILLE, Conn., Sept. 28.
With simple ceremonies, America's most important wedding since the Lindbergh nuptials, is taking place here to-day at 4 p.m. Eastern Standard Time.

Miss Florence Trumbull, daughter of the Governor of Connecticut, is being married to John Coolidge, son of the former President. Their courtship took place during their school days, when John's father was in the White House, and during their period of engagement the young man has been working as clerk in a railroad office.

The modern ideas of the bride developed when arrangements for the ceremony were being made, with the result that while Miss Trumbull is promising to "love, honour, and comfort," she will not promise to "obey."

John is presenting Florence with a platinum wedding ring encrusted with 13 diamonds.

A later report says that in the presence of their parents and a few friends, Miss Florence Trumbull and John Coolidge, children of a governor and an ex-President respectively, were married here this afternoon.

A thousand or more persons gathered outside the church, however, and stood during the ceremony.

Many motored to the town and a few arrived by aeroplane, with no hope of seeing the ceremony, but desiring to be "on hand" on the chance of getting a glimpse of the party.

BARON TANAKA
DEAD.POLITICAL UPSET IN JAPAN.A DISTINGUISHED CAREER.

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

TOKYO, Sept. 28.
The ex-Premier, Baron Tanaka, has died of heart disease. Baron Tanaka's death occurred at 3 a.m. to-day, following a violent attack one hour previously.

Though there were no signs of illness when he retired last night, his heart has been weak for many years, for which reason he had given up smoking.

Although Mr. Ogawa and several of the lesser Tanaka regime officials are charged with official corruption, Tanaka himself is believed to be more sinned against than sinning. So far there is no hint that he personally is involved in the succession of scandals which are now coming to light.

A generous, simple-hearted soldier and a courageous fighter, Tanaka's main weakness was a choice of undeserving friends, to whom he was intensely loyal.

He was generally popular, even with his bitterest political enemies, who were forced to admire his courage in his refusal to accept defeat, even when the whole country was against him.

After a distinguished military career, he entered politics in 1925, when he was elected President of the Seiyukai (then the opposition party), and was appointed to the Premiership two years later.

This position he held until a reorganisation of the Chang Tso Lin cabinet in July last forced the resignation.

It is not yet certain who will succeed to the presidency of the Seiyukai, but the question of a successor is particularly important of the present time, owing to the probability of a general election early in 1930.

Baron Tanaka's funeral will take place on October 3.

NAVY PROPAGANDA
INVESTIGATION.SHEARER'S CLAIM SAID
TO BE ABSURD

[United Press.]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.
Mr. S. W. Wakeman, vice-president of the Bethlehem Steel Corporation, was the chief witness to-day before the Senate Naval Committee's sub-committee investigating the "big navy" propaganda activities of William B. Shearer.

In general Mr. Wakeman corroborated the testimony last Saturday of Mr. C. L. Bardo, vice-president of the New York Shipbuilding Co., concerning Mr. Shearer's services as "observer" at the Geneva disarmament conference.

He added that the builder also employed Mr. Shearer in 1928 "to help the United States Shipping Board with reference to the Merchant Marine."

Mr. Shearer's duties included those of general press agent work and the making of some speeches, for all of which he was paid $7,500, according to Mr. Wakeman.

Services to Shipping Industry.
Continuing his testimony before the Senate sub-committee investigating Mr. William B. Shearer's "big navy" propaganda work, Mr. S. W. Wakeman, vice-president of the Bethlehem Steel Corporation, this afternoon submitted to the committee members a letter from Mr. Shearer in which the latter claimed a salary of $825,000 a year and also a bonus because of services to the "shipping industry."

Referring to private conversations with the shipbuilders, the letter said:

"I wish to call your attention to the fact that as a result of my activities during the Sixty-ninth Congress, eight 10,000 ton cruisers are now under construction."

Further, owing to the failure of the Three Power Naval Conference at Geneva there are now before the Seventy-first Congress 71 shipbuilding programmes which will cost $740,000,000.

The letter said that his agreement provided that he should receive part of the money made by the builders.

Homer Ferguson, president of the Newport News Shipbuilding Corporation, testified that he was interested in the subject of disarmament because he had lost a contract for two cruisers and one battleship as a result of the Washington Conference.

The Malolo will touch all important Pacific ports in the course of the voyage.

ALLEGED BOND FRAUD.

COMPANY DIRECTOR
REMANDED.

ALBERT BENNETT FEY, aged thirty-one, an American citizen, described as a company director, living at Stamford-hill, N. Y., was remanded at Bow-street Police Court on a charge of fraudulently converting to his own use eleven bearer bonds in the (Societe Francaise des Petroles de Matapalaka, which had been entrusted to him for safe custody.

Dr. E. L. Burgin, M.P., solicitor, who presented, said that the charge dealt with bearer warrants for a large sum lodged with Fey by a Frenchman. Civil proceedings had been taken in the form of an application for an injunction against various banks and stockbrokers who were holders of these bonds.

It was afterwards found that some of the shares had been sold on the market, and since the warrant for Fey's arrest was granted other sales of a more extensive character had been traced. There would be further charges.

Detective Inspector Vandell said that Fey surrendered to him at Scotland-yard. The warrant was read to him, and he said, "Yes, I understand. I am charged with disposing of eleven bonds only."

The value of the eleven bonds was about £750, but the inspector understood that between £15,000 and £16,000 worth had been disposed of.

Dr. Burgin said that apart from the bonds stopped by the injunction there were 6,150 which had not been accounted for, of the value of over £16,000.

At his private residence in Shanghai last week the acting British Consul-General, Mr. C. E. Garsington, O.B.E., presented the O.B.E. to Mr. A. W. Burkill and the M.B.E. to Mrs. E. T. Byrne on behalf of H.M. the King. The ceremony was a formal one, lasting about five minutes. Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Brand, the married daughter and son-in-law of Mrs. Byrne, were present. The names of Mr. Burkill and Mrs. Byrne appeared with that of Mr. C. Harpur, in the New Year's Honours List, the publication of which was delayed on account of the King's illness.

Mr. Burkill has been connected with many prominent institutions in Shanghai. He was born in the northern port and went home in 1870, returning in 1892. He is chairman of Messrs. A. R. Burkill & Sons and he is also chairman of the Shanghai Race Club.

Mrs. Byrne is chairman of the British Women's Association and is also chairman of the Administrative Committee of the British Forces Recreation Committee. Her efforts in the interests of the soldiers have been tireless and this mark of appreciation from the Home Government comes as a fitting reward.

Mrs. Byrne came to Shanghai about five and a half years ago from Dedham, England. Her father, the Rev. A. F. Russell, was a canon at Chelmsford. Mr. Harpur has left Shanghai on a visit to England.

LONDON ART GALLERY RAID.

POLICE COURT DUEL OVER MR. LAWRENCE'S
PICTURES.

EXHIBITS HELD TO BE "OBSCENE."

BOOKS ORDERED TO BE DESTROYED.

"It is just as bad to exhibit the pictures might be returned to Mr. Lawrence. The pictures were neither indecent nor obscene in the view of a number of persons prominent in the art world."

This statement was made by Mr. Mead, the Marlborough Street Magistrate, during the hearing of a summons against Mr. and Mrs. Philip Trotter, of Maddox Street, W., to show cause why thirteen pictures painted by Mr. D. H. Lawrence, the novelist and artist, and books containing reproductions of them, "should not be destroyed or further dealt with according to law."

The pictures were seized by the police at the Warren Galleries, Maddox Street. They had been seen by thousands of people before the raid.

Adjourned sine die.
The summons in respect of the pictures was adjourned sine die, on an undertaking being given by Mr. and Mrs. Trotter that the thirteen pictures should not be exhibited in any shape or form or any reproduction of them, that two which had been sold be returned to the purchasers and the others returned to Mr. Lawrence.

The books were ordered to be destroyed, and the charge with reference to a book, "Ecco Homo," was withdrawn.

Mr. Mead awarded five guineas costs against Mr. and Mrs. Trotter. Mr. Muskettt prosecuted for the police, Mr. St. John Hutchinson appeared for Mr. and Mrs. Trotter, and Mr. Percy Robinson watched the proceedings for Mr. D. H. Lawrence.

Many well-dressed men and women were in the public part of the court.

Mr. Muskettt, opening the case, explained that the rooms where the pictures had been exhibited "were occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Trotter, who lived in the rooms above, and that some little time before the proceedings were initiated the authorities thought, having regard to the outcry which appeared in the reputable Press, and owing to a large number of complaints received by the Home Secretary and the Commissioner of Police, that the matter required looking into in the interests of public morality."

Found Four Books.
Mr. Muskettt said that he understood that Mr. D. H. Lawrence was permanently resident abroad, and had therefore no direct associations personally with Britain.

Inspector Hester visited the exhibition and, said Mr. Muskettt, in addition to the thirteen pictures which he thought should be submitted to the magistrates for adjudication whether they were obscene or not, found four books which contained reproductions in colour of all the twenty-five pictures exhibited.

Mr. Muskettt said the inspector also found another book, "Ecco Homo," by George Grosz, of which he thought there could be no question that it was grossly obscene.

He referred to features of the paintings as being "largely, grossly, and unnecessarily developed," and referred later to this class of filthy production, as "I call it."

There could not be the least doubt, he said, that the "thirteen horrible productions" and the reproductions in the books satisfied the definition of the legal word obscene.

Mr. Muskettt mentioned that the solicitors to Mr. and Mrs. Trotter had written him a letter making certain suggestions as to the disposal of the pictures.

An Undertaking.
This letter was read by Mr. St. John Hutchinson. It stated that if the pictures were destroyed it would affect important legal questions as to the contractual rights of Mr. and Mrs. Trotter and Mr. Lawrence. The Warren Galleries held a high position in the art world, and the last thing Mr. and Mrs. Trotter would do would be to exhibit pictures which were indecent or obscene.

Mr. and Mrs. Trotter had offered to remove any picture which might give offence. They were willing to undertake, if the pictures were returned, not to exhibit them in any shape or form, but to return two of them to persons who had purchased them privately and the others to the artist.

If they were destroyed it would mean that Mr. Lawrence's creative work could never be reproduced. It was also suggested that the pictures might be returned to Mr. Lawrence. The pictures were neither indecent nor obscene in the view of a number of persons prominent in the art world.

Mr. Mead: Assuming they were obscene, what would be the object of preserving them excepting to exhibit them privately or publicly?

Mr. Hutchinson: It would certainly not be the intention of the private people who purchased them as works of art to publish or circulate them. I should imagine they would be purchased to adorn their houses.

Mr. Mead: In that case they would be exhibited in private houses. It is just as bad to exhibit them in private houses as in a public place. It is rather worse, because in the public place they could be discovered and put a stop to, but a man could collect obscene pictures or books in order to corrupt people who visited him.

Mr. Hutchinson: Such a man could be prosecuted. It is advancing the censorship to apply it to works of art in private houses.

"Utterly Immaterial."
Mr. Mead: It is utterly immaterial whether they are works of art. That is a collateral question which I have not to decide. The most splendidly painted picture in the universe might be obscene.

Inspector Hester gave evidence of his two visits to the gallery and the seizure of the books and pictures.

Mr. Muskettt handed to Mr. Mead a large book containing printed matter and coloured reproductions, and drew his attention to a particular page.

Mr. Mead scanned it and remarked: "Some vulgar words I thought I saw."

Mr. Muskettt said that the printed matter was signed D. H. Lawrence.

Mr. St. John Hutchinson opened his cross-examination of Inspector Hester.

Mr. Hutchinson said that he wanted to ask the officer this question, and if he also knew that there were eulogistic comments.

Mr. Mead: No, you cannot go into it, I cannot regard either Press eulogy or Press comment.

Mr. Hutchinson: Were the proceedings started by a private individual of the authorities?

Mr. Mead (to Inspector Hester): You need not answer that.

Mr. Hutchinson questioned the Magistrate's ruling, and Mr. Mead said: "It is before me. It does not matter who started it."

Case for Defence.
Mr. Hutchinson, addressing Mr. Mead for the defence, said the case was one of great seriousness both to Mr. and Mrs. Trotter and to British art. Mr. and Mrs. Trotter were highly respectable people, who had for some time been giving exhibitions, chiefly of the work of young artists. They were not out to appeal to people not interested in modern British art, and many of the artists whose works they exhibited came from the working class, like Mr. Lawrence, who had begun work as a miner. "Mr. Lawrence is a very English Englishman," said Mr. Hutchinson, who proceeded:

The case seeks to establish quite a new form of censorship. I have not been able to find any case in which serious paintings have been brought into a police court and a magistrate asked to decide whether they were obscene.

We have had to wait until the year 1929, with a so-called advanced Government in power, before that new form of censorship seems to have been set up in this country. It is quite unknown in any other country in the world.

Mr. Hutchinson said that these pictures were not painted with any idea of titillating indecent-minded people. They were the work of a serious artist painting serious pictures, and, to show that they were serious works, he proposed to call a number of art professors.

He quoted a judgment which, he said, was made to prevent people prosecuting the publication of works of writers such as Shakespeare, Dryden, Fielding, Horatio, or Blake, which might contain indecencies but which were works of art. There could not be one rule for Dryden and one rule for Lawrence simply because Dryden happened to live a long time ago.

Mr. Muskettt submitted the draft terms of the undertaking by Mr. and Mrs. Trotter, and Mr. Mead and Mr. Hutchinson agreed to them.

INTER-DEPARTMENT COMPETITION.

POLICE WIN THE TROPHY.

The P.W.D. holders of the Goscombe-O'Sullivan Cup, presented by Chief Preventive Officer S. J. Clarke for a lawn competition among Government Departments, were beaten yesterday in the final by the Police. The latter had the upper hand all the way, teams and final scores being:—

At the close of the match, Mr. R. R. Wood (Hon. Secretary of the Inter-Dept. Competition) thanked the Hon. Mr. W. T. Southern, C.M.G., for his presence, and also the Police Recreation Club for the loan of the ground, adding a word of thanks to Mr. W. Glendinning, the range warden for the excellent condition of the green.

Hon. Mr. Southern's Congratulations.

After handing over the Goscombe-O'Sullivan Cup to Mr. Mair and replicas of the trophy to the winning team, the Hon. Mr. Southern expressed his pleasure at being present to see a very good match.

The Cup was given in memory of two gallant police officers (Sergeant Henry Goscombe-Clarke and Inspector Mortimer O'Sullivan) and their comrades, who were lucky to escape in an affray with an armed gang.

This was the first time the Police came on top, and Mr. Southern said he was particularly glad after their run of hard luck in the League. He hoped the winning of the Cup would change their bad luck and they would come next year to the top of the League. (Applause.)

Others were called for Mr. Southern and heartily given. (Continued on next column.)

H.K.V.D.C. SPORTS.

INDIANS AND R.A. IN TUG-OF-WAR.

LADY CLEMENTI PRESENTS PRIZES.

Despite Saturday's heat, there was a good attendance at the H.K.V.D.C. Athletic Meeting on the K.C.C. ground on Saturday. One could sympathise with the contestants in the circumstances but, all things considered, they put up some splendid displays.

Among the events, worthy of special notice were the tug-of-war between the Indians and the Royal Artillery, which was won by the former in two straight pulls, and the 100 yards sprint which was won by Lammert in 10.1.5 secs, with Carvalho a remarkably close second.

Commandant's Cup.

There were several entries for the open relay race which was won easily by the K.O.S.B.'s, with their second team finishing a comfortable second. The Machine Gunners put up a stiff fight against the Portuguese company in the Corps Relay Race and carried off this event.

Many well-known local runners entered for the open one mile flat race which was awarded to Pte. Balsh after an objection was overruled. It was argued that an Indian was first by a touch but, after a long conference, the judges held that Balsh was the winner on account of the fact that the Indian runner had not entered his name. The Machine Gunners secured an easy victory over the Portuguese Company and won the Commandant's Cup by scoring 21 points against 16.

His Excellency.

H.E. the Governor (Sir Cecil Clementi, K.C.M.G.) and Lady Clementi, M.B.E., accompanied by Capt. A. J. L. Whyte, A.D.C., R.E., arrived on the ground later, and were received by Lt.-Col. L. G. Bird, D.S.O., O.B.E., the Commandant of the Corps.

Her Ladyship presented the prizes to the winners, after which Lt.-Col. Bird addressed the gathering.

He said that the Hong Kong Volunteer Defence Corps were indebted to Lady Clementi for her kindness in coming to give the prizes away, and also to the Committee of the Kowloon Cricket Club for the loan of their ground. It was easily the best piece of ground for an event of that kind, and this was borne out by the good time achieved in all the events.

He asked that three rousing cheers be given to Lady Clementi. Lt.-Col. Bird then presented Lady Clementi with a purse, and in accepting the gift, Lady Clementi said that she had neither run nor jumped and that she did not deserve a prize.

LOCAL CRICKET.

PRACTICE MATCH AT H.K.C.C.

On Saturday a practice game took place on the H.K.C.C. ground between teams captained by R. Hancock and T. E. Pearce respectively. The new laid wicket played very well indeed but the heat was a bit great for really keen cricket on the opening of the season.

Nothing very startling took place in the batting of Pearce's side. Reid's 37 was a lucky innings and most of the runs did not come from the middle of the bat. Armstrong was slow and stolid but he plays a bit across and it was only owing to the fact that he failed to connect with many off balls he played at that enabled him to retire undefeated. West hit well at the end and Hepburn played a very steady innings. He has no style but he obviously watches the ball very closely.

Of the bowlers, Parker kept a steady length and at one period had two overs. Coppin on his form is not in interform as a bowler, or a bat, but he is a very keen and quick field. Hamilton and Bowker suffered from dropped catches. The latter sent down some beautiful balls—and far too many full pitches.

For Hancock's side Lolly Gold-man played an excellent knock for 33 before being thrown out. R. M. Wood showed he has a nice style but no one else did very much. None of the bowlers tried were very impressive and Stanion alone seems likely to be a serious inter-form aspirant among them. Hinton did not go on, but he can bowl a lot better than some of them.

One feature of the game was the fact that Capt. Sillitoe gave away no extras when keeping for Hancock's side, while making two catches. As it is, I believe, his first, or one of his first experiences behind the stumps, it was a noteworthy performance, even though he admittedly did not stand up.

UNIVERSITY v. D.B.S.
In a high scoring match at Pokfulam the Diocesan Boys School beat the University Second after the latter had very sporting allowed an extra over to be played. When it was time for stumps to be drawn the School needed just a couple of runs to win and they managed to collect them if the extra over.

The Varsity had first knock and compiled 178 for 4 wickets. A. Rodrigues (53) and P. L. Tan (50 not out) were the chief run-getters. The School replied with 179 for 5 wickets with E. Lee (53) as top scorer.

SOUTH CHINA'S NARROW ESCAPE.

KIAORAS AGAIN DO WELL.

BASEBALL CLUB FORFEITS GAME TO JAPANESE.

The South China baseball team and their supporters had a bit of a shock in their game with the Kiaoras at the Navy Field, Saturday, when, up till the sixth innings they were three valuable runs in arrears.

Kiaoras' Good Play.

Batting first, the League leaders could only collect a solitary run and when the Kiaora boys bagged four in their first innings, thanks to a three-bagger by Tom Chian when all the sacks were loaded, things did not look too bright for the S.C.A.A. Then Chian himself got home on Peter Wong's sacrifice and excitement ran to a very high pitch when neither side could score till the sixth—the lucky sixth for South China—when they collected four runs. At this stage the fielding of the Kiaora lads fell to pieces, which was indeed a pity after such a capital showing.

Comments.

The Kiaora boys played a good game, and although Matty Chang held them down for six innings, he had not such a terrible lot on the ball as some people imagined. The Kiaoras did not disappoint their supporters for they put up a splendid fight and never gave up trying till the very end. It was a gallant trial, and some of the more experienced teams could do worse than holding the "Babies" as an example.

The Teams.

The teams were:—
South China: C. C. Lee, M. Chang, E. Chang, K. C. Chung, K. F. June, K. C. Fung, F. W. Ip, T. Wong, P. F. Tsai, K. L. Chu.
Kiaoras: C. C. Lee, P. Wong, C. C. Leung, K. K. Leung, T. Chinn, C. B. Ng, C. K. Leung, Y. S. Fung.

The scores, inning by inning, were:—
South China 1 0 0 0 4 0 = 5
Kiaoras 4 0 0 0 0 0 = 4
Umpires: Carter, Taylor.

BASEBALL CLUB FORFEITS GAME.

The Hong Kong Baseball Club forfeited the league game to the Japanese at Caroline Hill yesterday as more than half their team did not show up at the field, no doubt under the impression that the rain in the morning rendered the ground unfit for play. They however, played a friendly game, with some sailors from the Mindanao and some of the Kiaora players helping to make up the team.

HOME FOOTBALL RESULTS.

ARSENAL LOSE AGAIN ON SATURDAY.

LEEDS UNITED LEAD IN FIRST DIVISION.

ROCHDALE SURPRISED.

Leeds United gained their second victory of the week and reached the top position in Division I. of the English League, hitherto held by the Arsenal, who were defeated again in meeting the Cup winners. Three other leading teams also went down. Twelve goals were scored between Blackburn and Birmingham, the points going to the Rovers. Sheffield Wednesday, last season's champions, drew with Sheffield United, but their earlier success in the week enabled them to move up four places.

Placed more than half way down the Division II. table, the Wolves were elevated to second position consequent on another victory by 4-0 over Preston North End. Chelsea also gained four points during the week and placed themselves in a challenging position. Oldham Athletic retained the leadership although they were again forced to give one point away.

Southend continue to hold the reins in the Southern Section, but their position is threatened by Plymouth Argyle, who repeated their mid-week success. Port Vale, leaders in the Northern Section, added another four points, having lost only one match. Rochdale were surprised on the visit to Wrexham where they were beaten by eight goals.

The Scottish League matches fetched another win for the Rangers and a better place for Aberdeen, who were also successful during the week.

SOME FRIENDLY MATCHES.

LITTLE INTEREST SHOWN.

Except for the game at Sookun-poo, little interest was shown in soccer on the eve of the commencement of the League season which opens on October 3. On the Garrison ground, a very keen game was seen, a strong combination from the Army beating China Athletic by the odd goal in three.

A large crowd turned out to witness the game and this augurs well for a successful season for the Athletic on their new ground at North Point. The covered stand was filled before the teams took the field for the senior game.

The result of Saturday's games were:—

Army XI. 2 China Athletic 1
Kowloon F.C. 3 R.A. 0
H.K.F.C. 1 St. Joseph's 0
China Ath. Res. 6 K.O.S.B. Res. 1

ARMY v. ATHLETIC.

On the Sookunpoo ground, the teams lined up as under:—

China Athletic—Chan Sek Pui; Ng Kum Chun and Lai Yuk Tat; Leung Yuk Tong, Wong Shui Wah and Ho Choi Yin; Tso Kwai Shing, Suen Kum Shun, Wong Pak Chong, Li Hung Ching and Chan Kwong Lu.

The Army—Fletcher (R.A.); Gardiner and Reeves (K.O.S.B.); West (S.L.I.); Davy (K.O.S.B.) and Joyce (R.A.); Palmer and Rayson (S.L.I.); Everett, McGlinchey and Alexander (K.O.S.B.).

McGlinchey sent the Army forward but the Athletic defence was sound. Reeves cleared from Chan, but the Athletic came again and Wong was stopped close in. Joyce held the Athletic right wing and, dropping the ball well forward, Everett rushed through and opened the score.

Fletcher was called upon several times to clear his charge and was in great trouble until he mistimed a long shot from Tso Kwai Shing, the ball entering the net near the post. A struggle for the lead ensued but the interval arrived with the score one all.

Suen Kum Shun and Li changed places on resuming, but the Army defence was sound, Reeves being on top of his form. The Army left wing started a raid on the Athletic goal and Rayson meeting the ball from a pass by Alexander, sent into the net.

The Athletic tried hard to pull the game round and Fletcher did some marvellous things in goal.

The Army defence held out until the final whistle sounded with the score standing: Army 2, China Athletic 1.

KOWLOON v. R.A.

On the Railway ground, the R.A. turned out a weak side in their friendly with the Kowloon F.C. The home team had several players absent, but managed to beat the Gunners by three clear goals. Easterbrook, Gallagher and Simpson scored for the winners.

H.K.F.C. v. ST. JOSEPH'S.

Playing at home, the Club beat St. Joseph's by a goal to nil. The game was apparently not taken very seriously by either side. Reid scored the only goal of the game for the Club in the second half.

K.O.S.B. RES. v. CHINA ATHLETIC RES.

This game was played on the Garrison ground and ended in a win for the Athletic by the large margin of six goals to one. The K.O.S.B. lost their centre forward, Crawley, when the score stood two to nil against them.

At the interval the Athletic were leading by three clear goals.

Goals for the Athletic were scored by Fong Tak Shun (3), Sek Pui Tim (2) and Li Fong.

Milligan scored the K.O.S.B. goal.

RIFLE SHOOTING AT SHAMEEN.

H.M.S. CICALA'S EASY WIN.

H.M.S. Cicala's rifle team beat a team from Shameen easily by 51 points. It has been suggested that the Shameen team may challenge a similar team from Hong Kong in the winter.

GAMES IN FROSTY WEATHER.

(United Press)

New York, September 22.—As frosty weather nipped players in several of the "big league" cities to-day, three hard-fought contests went to 10 innings and there was a general tendency to make the season-closing games hard ones.

The pennant winners in both circuits took beatings by a margin of one point in each case, Washington winning from the Athletics 7-6 and New York from the Cubs 5-4. This hurt the leaders' percentages, bringing Philadelphia to .650 and Chicago to .655, but made no difference on the championship outcome and gave valuable players a lay-off in anticipation of the World Series.

The Senators seemed due to romp all over the Athletics up to the ninth inning, when four Philadelphia runs tied the score at 6-6. This proved unavailing, however, for the Senators brought over the winning tally in the tenth. The weather was genuinely cold in Washington.

In the first White Sox-Yankee games of a double-header, Reynolds of the White Sox made a home run and so did that of the Yankees, Chicago winning 7-4. Sherid, speedy Chicago right-fielder, stole his fortieth base of the season. Aside from these highlights, the contest was listless. New York was 5-4, with the aid of a home run by Terry.

Playing the Phillies at Cincinnati, the Reds scored one run in the ninth innings to tie the score at 2-2 and then pushed over the winning run in the tenth inning.

The following are the detailed results of to-day's games:—

American League.
 Clubs R. H. E.
 Chicago 7 10 2
 New York 4 10 2
 Chicago 1 5 1
 New York 3 7 2
 (second game).
 Cleveland 7 12 0
 Boston 4 0 3
 (10 innings).
 St. Louis 0 7 1
 Detroit 5 8 0
 Philadelphia 6 9 2
 Washington 7 8 0
 (10 innings).

National League.
 Clubs R. H. E.
 Brooklyn 7 11 0
 St. Louis 2 7 1
 Brooklyn 0 6 2
 St. Louis 4 10 0
 (second game).
 New York 5 10 0
 Chicago 4 7 1
 Philadelphia 2 6 1
 Cincinnati 3 12 0
 (10 innings).

Jack Hendricks Resigns.
 Cincinnati, September 22.—Jack Hendricks to-day resigned his managership of the Cincinnati Reds baseball team.

It is believed that the poor showing of the club this season in responsible. The Reds now stand seventh in the National League rating, with a percentage of .440 and only the Boston Braves are below them in the list.

New York, September 23.—Only one game was scheduled in each of the major leagues today, other teams enjoying the regular Monday lay-off after Sunday's hard work.

Judge of the Washington Senators made four hits in five times up to bat. They included a smashing double in the ninth, when the Senators were tied with the White Sox at 6-6, and the two-bagger drove home the winning run. Chicago committed four errors while the Senators kept a clean slate.

In the National League, Hafey of the St. Louis Cardinals made his twenty-sixth home run of the season against Cincinnati. Two runs were scored and this won the game, 6-4. Hafey also hit out a two-bagger.

A Managers' Disappointment.

New York, September 23.—Miller Huggins, manager of the New York Giants, is in a New York hospital near the point of death from variety of ailments following a recent attack of influenza.

Friends say that sorrow over the loss of the National League championship to a Chicago Cubs is seriously hampering his recovery.

The Little World Series.
 Kansas City, September 23.—Defeating Indianapolis, the Kansas City Blues clinched the American Association Championship and will meet Rochester, winner in the International League, in a "little world's series."

The "little world's series" is a regular annual event which attracts much local interest though dwarfed on a national or international scale by the so-called "world championship" series played by winners in the American and National Leagues.

Dallas Steers Texas Champs.
 Dallas, Texas, September 23.—The Dallas Steers baseball team, defeating Wichita Falls in three out of four games, has won the Texas League championship.

Since the formation of the league in 1907, Dallas has won the title in 1910, 1917, 1918 and 1929.

Signor Balbo, the Under-Secretary of State for Aviation, recently announced at Trieste that an agreement has been reached between the Government and the Sisa (Italian Air Service Company) for the opening of an air line between Trieste and Marseilles, with intermediate points of call at Venice, Milan, and Genoa. The Government is to grant a subsidy of 400,000,000 lire spread over a period of 10 years, this being in addition to the subsidies already being paid to the Sisa in connection with other air lines. It is estimated that the construction of the new air port will cost 1,700,000 lire, and this amount will be provided by the commune, the province, and various public bodies.

DAILY WATERFRONT NEWS.

NOTICE TO MARINERS.

CABLE LAYING OPERATIONS.

A notification to mariners from the military authorities states that cable laying operations will be carried out at the east entrance of Lyeemooon Pass on Wednesday, October 2, 1929. The regulation signal will be exhibited by the vessel employed.

Venezia to Run to Canton.

After a lay up of over six months at Shamshui, the s.s. Venezia was taken in hand at the Kowloon Dock for entire renewal of her superstructure and general overhaul of the engines. It is expected that the vessel will be ready for service to Canton within six weeks. The s.s. Venezia was formerly the s.s. Kingsfisher, an ex-Channel steamer. She was bought by an Italian coastal shipping company and after service in the Adriatic, she was purchased by a Chinese concern who brought the vessel out to Hong Kong expressly for the Canton service. It is stated that the vessel is capable of 21 knots, and is expected to make a new phrase for the Canton service.

New Prince-Liner Arrives.

The m.s. Cingalese Prince, one of the new additions to the Far East-New York Service operated this agency. The vessel is moored in midstream to buoy No. A3.

Shipping Movements.

The R.M.S. Empress of Russia arrived at Shanghai on September 27 at 8 p.m., left that port on September 28 at 4 p.m., and is due at Hong Kong this (Monday) afternoon, and leaves to-morrow, October 1, at 5 p.m.
